COME AGAIN!

Either those Los Angeles visitors had a bully good time or else they have deceived every man who has helped entertain them, and we don't believe they said a single pleasant thing about their stay that was insincere. Really, it was calculated to give a Salt Lake visitor the impression of the city to listen to the almost extravagant words of appreciation beginning early Monday on the arrival of the special trains and rising in a rapid crescendo to the last minute of their departure.

On behalf of Salt Lake it is only fair to say that this city enjoyed the job it undertook and stands ready to repeat the dose, with some improvements any time Los Angeles gets ready to come up. There may be other cities with as many good fellows in them, but it happens none of them have ever come this way who quite equalled the Californians as desirable guests. There wasn't a grumbler in the whole three hundred and odd, they weren't afraid to say they were having a good time, and they made every occasion a delight by their enthusiastic praise of Salt Lake and its people.

If we were inclined to figure the week's work on a purely commercial basis, we should estimate the entertainment of these representatives men worth at least twenty to fifty times all it cost; and its value in good fellowship, a spirit of amity between cities, its instructiveness for our own people, cannot be estimated in dollars and cents.

To Senator Clark, whose hospitality made this first visit possible, to the Commercial club's members who so admirably executed their part of the program, and to the various organizations and citizens who assisted so effectively, Salt Lake is under the deepest of obligations. The street railway company, the telephone company, the Saltair Beach company, Senator Bamberger, the Southern Pacific officials and the Ogden men led by Fred J. Kiesel, are all entitled to special votes of thanks for their part in the success of the undertaking.

The opinion of the visitors is perhaps best voiced in the movement to make this interchange of visits an annual affair, and the fact that the Salt Laker most interested have joined heartily in the movement is ample proof that both guests and hosts feel that the experiment is worth repeating.

OUR TRADE WITH CUBA.

The Monthly Summary of Commerce and Finance, just issued by the department of commerce and labor through its bureau of statistics, presents the latest available statistics of our trade with Cuba during April, 1905, and for the ten months ending with April 1905, as compared with the corresponding period of the preceding year, from which it is seen that our trade with Cuba, both as regards imports and exports, is for the present fiscal year the largest on record. During the ten months ending with April last, exports from the United States to Cuba were valued at $31,319,520, as against $21,555,745 during the corresponding period of the preceding fiscal year and $59,599,929 during a like period of the fiscal year 1898.

Exports from the United States to Cuba have increased 43.2 per cent and imports from Cuba have increased 22.4 per cent, comparing the ten months' figures of the present fiscal year with the corresponding period of the preceding year. The exports to Cuba during the ten months ending April 30, 1905, were valued at $31,319,520, or 45.6 per cent in excess of $21,555,745, or 43.2 per cent, while imports from Cuba in the ten-month period ending April 30, 1905, were $59,599,929, an increase of $12,717,819, or 22.4 per cent as compared with a like period of the preceding year.

Meantime imports into the United States from Cuba have also increased rapidly. Again, comparing the figures of the present fiscal year with those of 1898, the year when Spanish control over the island of Cuba, it is found that imports into the United States from Cuba during the ten-month period under review have increased from $12,769,366 in 1898 to $56,723,440 in 1904 and $59,599,929 in the present year ending April 30. Thus exports to Cuba have increased 22 million dollars and imports from Cuba have increased 56 million dollars, when the ten-month period of the present fiscal year is compared with a like period of the fiscal year of 1898. In the ten months ending with April, 1898, imports into the United States from Cuba exceeded exports from the United States to Cuba but a little more than 4 million dollars; in the same period of the present year the excess of Cuban imports into the United States over exports to Cuba was 25 million dollars.

The large increases noted in the exports from the United States to Cuba are illustrated by an analysis of the trade by principal articles. Comparing the exports during the ten-month period of the present year with the corresponding ten months of 1904, increases occur as follows: Corn, 406 thousand bushels over the exports of 1904 to April 30; flour, nearly 30 thousand barrels; coal, 67 thousand tons; coffee, 1 1/2 million pounds; cotton cloths, 19 million yards; eggs, over 1-2 million dozen; boots and shoes, nearly 300 thousand pairs; refined mineral oil, about 1 million gallons; bacon, 1 1/2 million pounds; salted or pickled pork, over 1 million pounds; lard, nearly 2 million pounds; boards, 16 1/2 thousand M feet; cattle, 14 thousand head, and rice, a marked increase of 33 million pounds over the exports recorded for the ten month period of 1904. Only a few important items show decreases, viz: crude mineral oil, 429 thousand gallons; tallow, 468 thousand pounds; hams, 729 thousand pounds; and cheese, 210 thousand pounds.

THE CODE DUELLO.

Enlightened public sentiment in Europe is tending more strongly against the barbarity of the duello with the result that this last resort is more seldom invoked than the years pass. There are, however, savage natures, who still believe in the righteousness of the code as a method of settling differences involving questions of honor. Over a more or less senseless quarrel a few days ago two members of the Austrian parliament met on a "field of honor" with the result that one of them, Count Kegelevich, was killed on the spot. The European duel has long been a stock subject of American humor, but the outcome of this meeting last week indicates that even a European duel may terminate fatally. Indeed the duel in Austria and Italy is as likely as not to end in the death or serious injury of one or both of the participants, though largely of the nature of the outcome the almost extravagant words of appreciation beginning early Monday on the arrival of the special trains and rising in a rapid crescendo to the last minute of their departure.

On behalf of Salt Lake it is only fair to say that this city enjoyed the job it undertook and stands ready to repeat the dose, with some improvements any time Los Angeles gets ready to come up. There may be other cities with as many good fellows in them, but it happens none of them have ever come this way who quite equalled the Californians as desirable guests. ## Society.

Mrs. James Dietrick entertained last evening at a musical for her friends. Mrs. Idelman and Miss Idelman, who are just back from a lengthy stay in Paris. The house and the grounds were lighted with Japanese lanterns hung in strings around the verandas and across the lawn. The guests were seated in the place attractive, while within doors many flowers lent beauty and fragrance. Red roses were used in the drawing room, and pink in the den. The library was in yellow and white, entirely a high bank of syringa covering the deck, and banks of wild muscat filling the corners. In the dining room pure white roses alone were used. Here Mrs. Fred Loofbourrow, Miss Leda Rawlins and Miss Dora Well served a buffet supper and Miss Mary Sharp served punch in the hall.

A musical programme was rendered, the artists who took part being Hugh Dougall, Miss Alice Seckels, Miss Idelman, Mrs. Dietrick, the Misses Kelley, T. Vollmer, Frank Schmidt and Miss Alice Miller.

Mrs. F. L. Oswald entertained at a luncheon yesterday for Mrs. Ira O. Rhoades, the colors being pink and white. The guests were Mrs. Rhoades, Mrs. Winnie Rhoades, Mrs. George V. Wallace, Mrs. Everett Buckingham, Miss Harriet Dunster, Mrs. James B. Eddie and Mrs. A. E. Hutchinson.

Mrs. Frank Knox entertained again yesterday at a luncheon, about thirty friends being present. The house was decorated with pink roses and green ferns. Prizes were won by Mrs. Charles W. Philp and Mrs. Lewis Evans.

The Five Hundred Card club met yesterday at the home of Mrs. Howard Stowe. Mrs. A. L. Hopough and Mrs. Frank J. Gustin also being hostesses. Five tables were filled with players, and prizes were won by Mrs. A. E. Hirth, Mrs. E. T. Harvey and Mrs. A. E. Hirth.

The following is from the San Francisco Chronicle: "Mrs. Frank Morrow, who came to California from Fort Douglas, Utah, with her husband, Captain Morrow, when he was made quartermaster of the Sheridan, is leaving tomorrow for Douglas. She will return here to live before the Sheridan gets into the harbor, her stay she and her little daughter have been living at the Northport with Mrs. Henry Morrow, Major Morrow and Captain and Mrs. John Bonifant.

Mrs. Willard Squires and family will leave tomorrow for Pittsburg to spend the summer with Mrs. Squires' sister, Mrs. H. W. Nichols.

Mrs. Arthur H. S. Bird will give a luncheon at the Country club today in compliment to Miss Stella Salisbury.

Mrs. William McCaskell will give a luncheon for Miss Stella Salisbury a week from today.

Mrs. Constance Kirkpatrick gives a luncheon next week for Mrs. Theodore A. Baldwin and Miss Stella Salisbury.

Mrs. John E. Dooly is in Muskegon, visiting with Mrs. Elizabeth Genter and her family.

Mrs. Walter Fitch, Mrs. S. D. Sturgis and Mrs. George K. Fisher will hostesses at the Country club today. Tea will be served at 4 o'clock and ten-dollar dinner will be played. A dinner will be served, table d'hôte, at 7 o'clock.

Mrs. A. E. Hutchinson gives a luncheon today for Mrs. Ira O. Rhoades, who leaves shortly for the coast.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Greenwood entertain at cards this evening.

Miss Leone Eason will be the guest of honor at a linen shower to be given this afternoon by Miss Ethel Lane.

Mrs. George W. Snow entertains at cards this afternoon.

Mrs. William C. Cambridge will be the guest of honor at a like party to be given this evening by Mrs. S. B. Miller.

Mrs. E. W. Whitney entertained at a luncheon yesterday for Mrs. James B. Eddie, covers being laid for eight. Pink roses were used in the decoration.

C. L. Rood returned yesterday from Denver, leaving for home to spend some time longer with friends there.

Miss Rose Hartwell and Miss Mattie Kimball will return from Europe and the far east in the autumn to remain through the winter.

Mrs. Abbott R. Heywood of Ogden is the guest of Miss Frances Phillips.

Cards have been received by Salt Lake friends for the marriage of Miss Vera Barrows and Joel L. Harris in Ogden. The wedding to take place next Wednesday.

Mrs. Hallenbeck of San Francisco is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Isadore Mayer, on her way home from Boise.

Miss Ida Ballweg entertained a few of her friends yesterday afternoon in compliment to Miss June Bantz.

Miss Mayne Lovey gave a china shower Thursday afternoon for Miss Eva Hudson. Roses and carnations were used in decoration and about thirty friends were present. Several guessing games were played and prizes were given by Miss Hudson, Miss Mary Spang and Miss Lillian Hudson.

Mrs. D. C. Gates entertained at a five hundred party for Miss Anna Hall yesterday afternoon.

CATHOLIC PARTY
SEES SALT LAKE

Visiting Knights of Columbus Are Entertained by Local Brothers.

RECEPTION AT ACADEMY

ENTERTAINMENT IS GIVEN AT ST. MARY'S.

Visiting Knights of Columbus had a gala time in Salt Lake yesterday, one of the features of which was a brief reception given them last evening at St. Mary's academy, under the direction of Sister Francis, the mother superior of the community.

The knights, to the number of 400, including the members of their families, arrived early in the day on the way east from the national convention held at Los Angeles. They were met at the Oregon Short Line depot by a committee composed of J. J. Harvey, Dr. M. A. Hughes, Joseph Dederichs, W. J. Halloran, George J. Gibson, Dr. J. E. Scallion, J. B. Cosgriff and Frank E. McGurran, and were taken to the Knutsford, where they had breakfast. Then there followed a sightseeing trip through the city, a concert at the Tabernacle, a trip to the lake and then the reception at the academy.

The following women of Salt Lake aided in the reception: Mrs. Joseph Dederichs, Mrs. James O'Connor, the Misses Meloy, Mrs. P. J. McGurran, Mrs. D. H. Bero and Miss Margaret Finnegan.

In the party of easterners at the reception were National Secretary Daniel Colwell of New Haven, Conn., who is one of the four living founders of the order, and several other prominent men of the order, including R. J. Fitzgerald of Boston, Mass.; Hugh P. McNally, dramatic editor of the Boston Herald; Charles F. Hughes of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., secretary of the northern board of district deputies, and Charles F. Todd of Winthrop, Mass. It was expected that Supreme Knight J. J. Harris of New Haven, Conn., would be in the party, but he was detained in Idaho looking over some mining properties.

Programme for Visitors.

The sisters of the academy had prepared an extensive programme for the visitors, but as the time was limited, owing to the early departure of the train, it was hurried somewhat in its delivery. It opened with "Holy God, We Praise Thy Name," a "Te Deum" in English, and then three cheers were given for the guests, after which Secretary Colwell made a brief address.

The students of the academy sang Verdi's Bella Figlia, from "Rigoletto," by Frederick Samuelson, R. J. Fitzgerald of Boston, Mass.; Hugh P. McNally, dramatic editor of the Boston Herald; Charles F. Hughes of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., secretary of the northern board of district deputies, and Charles F. Todd of Winthrop, Mass. It was expected that Supreme Knight J. J. Harris of New Haven, Conn., would be in the party, but he was detained in Idaho looking over some mining properties.

Harps-Fantasia: "Favorite Melodies" Mrs. E. McGurran, Misses Cannon, Mulvey, Gottstein, White.

"The Music Trial" Woodbury, Misses Mahan and McCue.

Piano duo, "Rhapsodie Hongroise" Miss Plumhoff and Mrs. E. McGurran.

Solo, "Inflammatus," from "Stabat Mater" Vocal class. Solo: Miss McCue. The knights and their families left for the east over the Rio Grande Western at 8 o'clock last evening, going in their own special train, but before they left they were loud in their praises of Salt Lake and its people, and many of them expressed a hope that one of the national conventions of the order in the near future might be held in this city.

Tomorrow morning there will be another large delegation of the knights coming in from San Francisco. The same committee will receive them.
